

TRANSITION PLYMOUTH presents:

PLYMOUTH AIRPORT: CLOSED NOW WHAT ARE THE OPTIONS?

A PUBLIC DISCUSSION

The aviation industry is one the biggest emitters of CO₂. Airport expansion and domestic flights have been a big struggle for the climate movement. Plymouth airport has been shut down for sound commercial reasons but now a new petition to re-open it is on its way. Our nearest international airport is Exeter less than 40 miles away - a better service than in most parts of the world already.

What is the best option for Plymouth?

Come and share your ideas, proposals and questions about its future

THURSDAY 21st MARCH

6.30pm for a 7pm start

Room 210, Roland Levinsky building, Plymouth University

Wheelchair access

On the third Thursday of every month
Transition Plymouth invites you to join our
